Help us keep YOUR neighborhood safe: REPORT WANTED CRIMINALS

The primary goal of the Metro Nashville Police Department is keeping our community safe. This goal is achieved by the police department and the citizens of Nashville continuing to work together to get wanted criminals off the streets and out of our neighborhoods.

You can keep your community safe by reporting people who have outstanding criminal warrants.

If you are wanted by the Metro Police Department, you can turn yourself in 24 Hours a day, 7 days a week at:

Metro Nashville Police Department
Criminal Warrants Division
200 James Robertson Parkway
(2nd Avenue side of the Criminal Justice Center)
Nashville, TN 37201
(615) 862-7683

Are you wanted by the police?

It is better for you to turn yourself in than for the police to track you down.

Benefits of turning yourself in:

- ♦ Police do not come to your home.
- ♦ Police do not come to your place of employment.
- ♦ You avoid paying to have your vehicle towed if you are stopped by the police.
- ♦ You can make prior arrangements with an attorney, bondsman, your employer, and your family, if needed.

The Criminal Warrants Division will not discuss any information over the phone related to outstanding warrants. If you believe you have an outstanding warrant, you must come to the Criminal Warrants Division in person and bring a photo ID.

The Criminal Warrants Division of the Metropolitan Police Department is comprised of the following sections of officers and civilians:

- ♦ Warrants Section
- ♦ Fugitive Section
- ♦ U.S. Marshal's Fugitive Task Force

These sections conduct a variety of functions to arrest and process wanted individuals. These functions include the following: maintaining and serving outstanding criminal warrants, transporting fugitives, and locating wanted criminals.
